Plans for an International Tournament Again Arranged.

Tarrasch and Tschigorin Not Likely to Play in St. Petersburg.

Once more the members of the Manhattan, Brooklyn and City Chess Clubs have united in carrying out a scheme to arrange for an international chess tournament, to be played in this city very shortly. It may be stated at once that this contest will be a great success.

When the Columbian Chess Congress decided upon holding an international tournament for which the leading American and European masters had entered, the New York press subscribed about $1,200. The metropolitan papers have also contributed the lion's share of the prizes for the tournament, which is to be held in October.

As regards the entries for the new venture, there is plenty of talent to make the games interesting. There will be Emanuel Lasker, who has just been written off as dead; last twelve months; M. Taubenhaus, of Paris, a player of remarkable skill, including the world champion; and for the blue, white and red, Ad. Albin, the only player who can boast of having won a game from Dr. Tarrasch. Tschigorin, of the Austrian school, J. D. Gossip, a theoretician of considerable renown, F. J. Lee, the author of their handbooks, played at the Simpson's divan; and the London and N. Jasnowodsky, the famous simultaneous and blindfold players, represent England.

America will probably enter the following stars: S. Lipschitz, champion of the United States; J. W. Showalter, the master of grand master J. P. Murphy, the young expert from Boston; W. H. K. Pollock, the ever-ready Irish and Maryland champion; the veteran Deacon Delmar, of St. Harmon; and W. J. Baird, an excellent trial from the Manhattan Chess Club, and others.

Lasker disappointed many of his admirers on Saturday on the occasion of a simultaneous display at the Manhattan Chess Club. The Anglo-German encountered nineteen players and only scored sixteen wins. Lasker seemed to be much fatigued and completely out of form. He gave up without a struggle the result that reached Jamaica the day that the captain left there.

The full story of the drummer's story, and before breakfast next day was off for La Guayra and thence to Panama, where on June 21 Mr. Weeks registered at the Grand Hotel, and asked for the best rooms in the house.

It was from here that Weeks sent the cablegram to London to make the receipt of which was strenuously resisted by him. He grew confidential at Panama, and told Proprietor Schuhmacher that he had been born there.

The English player Lee did much better. A. N. Tarrasch, who met him, had taken boards against him, and had lost a single game, played very rapidly, and won twelve, while four games were drawn.

To-night there will be chess in two cities. Lasker will open the season with a simultaneous of play at the Brooklyn Chess Club, while N. Jasnowodsky will make his debut as a blindfold and simultaneous player at the Manhattan C. C. The Pole will play on twenty boards, and will meet either the twenty games with his usual rapidity or better.

This extraordinary performance it is needless to say, will attract a great number of spectators.

Speaking of Jasnowodsky, mention must be made of the second match game, which this expert conducted this weekend against Ad. Albin, of Vienna. The latter had a plan to meet a French defense adopted by his adversary, and after a brilliant fight the Pole had to resign. Here is the full score of this game:
